NEW! Smart water dousing system

saunum autoleil

In a modern sauna, all you need to do is relax and enjoy. You don't even need to douse the sauna stones with water yourself. Saunum AutoLeil is a smart water douser capable of machine learning that creates and maintains a uniform sauna climate according to the user's preferences.

Humidity is just as important as temperature for a good sauna. Saunum AutoLeil is a heater accessory that automatically douses stones with water, generating steam and helping users control the sauna's humidity.

Saunum AutoLeil is controlled through the Saunum Leil control device screen, where you can preset 3 different types of steam that work with the AutoLeil.

Automatic humidity control – the target sauna temperature (40–100 °C) and the target relative humidity (10–60% depending on the temperature) are set as fixed values.

Manual control – the target temperature (40–100 °C), steam intensity (water valve is open 0.3–4 sec) and water dousing interval (1–10 min) are set as fixed values.

AutoLeil can also be set for a certain time to perfectly tailor the sauna's humidity to the user's preferences. Once the sauna reaches the desired temperature, AutoLeil automatically maintains the desired humidity.

The accessory includes a LED-lit button to douse water. This button also turns the automatic water dousing on and off. The default water-dousing cycle is 30 minutes. This interval can be changed to up to 12 hours, which, for example, is suitable for public saunas. Mains water (0.5-4 bar) is suitable for water connection.
